Greetings Senate Special Committee on Redistricting,

As you begin the process of redistricting, consider how the choices you all make directly affects the peoples' ability to elect a representative that will legislate in their/your communities best interest. We are in polarizing times and with a downward trend of GOP members in Texas Legislature, it might seem advantageous to use the power you all have to redraw districts to intentionally favor one party over the other. I implore you to fight this urge.
