Message:

The first draft of the redistricting does not accurately reflect the voters of each area. The lines are drawn to meander, especially through Texas cities, cutting neighbor from neighbor. The racial and ethnic composition of the people who have moved here in the last 10 years is not reflected. You need to draw a new map that reflects the growth. TX government will be stymied and slow if we have the same old ratios of white districts. It's not fair and not good for Texas through 2030.
