Message:

I am a 61 year old retired postal worker. A registered voter since my 18th birthday. When I was younger, I never understood how Texas always voted republican in just about every presidential election when everyone around me was voting democratic. I realize now how naive I was because my assumptions were based upon my own experience, in my community. Now I understand that it's probably that plus Republicans have been cheating all along. We need fair maps. Do the right thing. People are watching you more than ever these days. I'm hopeful that the next election cycle will not go favorably for Republicans. Texans are on to you. And if the census data is correct, that there are almost as many Hispanics as there are whites, I can promise you that this retired Mexican postal worker will be doing

everything she can to register everyone I know
to vote.
