Message:

As I peruse the 2021 redistricting process. my disapproval and concern centers on why weren't the maps spread publicly to the constituents in each district? The redistricting process of redrawing Congressional Districts maps will dismantle communities of color with less access to voting in elections .The proposed map increases the number of districts with white majorities and reduces the number of districts where minorities reside.

The current census depicts an excess of minorities residing in Texas and the majority population diminished in size. My greatest concern is why the redrawing of districts do not reflect this data?
