Message:

I don't think the proposed re-districting map is representative of the demographic make up of Houston and it's surrounding areas. When creating this map, ALL communities should be taken into account. There should be do "drawing of the lines" around communities to cherry pick what would work best in an upcoming election. As the city's and state's demographic make up changes, so should it's representation. It's 2021; open up to diversity.
