Message:
Here are my thoughts on redistricting.

My wife and I reside in Plano; at ██████████████████. We love the area as it is full of life and residents enjoying themselves. It's a place of unity and fellowship. Folks are drawn to this life style and support the area.

Plano has a current population of 285,494 residents as of the 2020 census. It is mostly in Collin County and has 71.6 square miles of land. A bit of Plano is in Denton County.

Here are my redistricting desires:
•I want the new map to reflect "one person, one vote" as provided in the US Constitution.
•It is important to me that districts are created so that there is approximately equal voting power in each district, and by "equal voting power" I mean equal voting power of people legally eligible to vote.
•New Congressional seats awarded to Texas as a result of the increase of the Texas population should represent the voting pattern of the state of Texas, which is Republican.
•Redistricting should be done by our elected officials like you – not by some "independent panel" or bureaucrats.
•Economically, this area primarily is middle and upper middle class. We want to keep it that way.
•Collin County also has many new Republicans from California, NY and other states who moved here to escape the craziness of their Democrat-run states. They are proud to live in a Red County!
•The people in Collin County communities enjoy not being caught up in the politics of Dallas County and City of Dallas: which does encroach on our City. We love living here and are a magnet for people moving to Texas.

I hope that my testimony, based upon my personal knowledge of the community in which I live, is helpful to you in the redistricting process.
